Congressman Robb's majority in the Thirteenth Congressional district was 1642, and he led the ticket in every county except one, that of Iron, where he fell one carried the State ticket vote. He carried his home county, Perry, which is a Republican county, by a majority of 34, and he carried his competitor's (Hanes') county by 426 majority. He carried every county in the district except Washington, which is Republican. This certainly shows that Mr. Robb is popular among the people, that they believe he has done his duty as a public servant and are well satisfied with his work.

Last Friday Judge Fox tendered to Governor Dockery his resignation as Judge of the Twenty-seventh Judicial Circuit, and at his recommendation the Governor appointed Robt. A. Anthony of Fredricktown to fill out the two unexpired years of Judge Fox's term. There were several other worthy applicants for the position who were backed up by strong petitions of the people and prominent members of the bar, but it seems that Governor Dockery felt that it was incumbent upon him to defer to the wishes of Judge Fox. Judge Anthony entered upon the duties of his new position of responsibility at this place last Monday on a docket that certainly needed attention, for business in the Circuit Court in this county has been sadly neglected for a year or more. The new Judge has started things moving, and it rests with him to show to the people that the honor conferred on him has been worthily bestowed.

The friends of Judge Eversole in this county regretted to hear of his defeat for Representative of Washington county, but some matters have come to light that promise to put a different face on the situation. It seems that the Republican clerk at the Mineral Point precinct did a little stunt in counting advancing the vote of four or five candidates by a tally of five, one of them being the Republican candidate for Representative. The Democratic judges of election happened to discover the clever "error" in three of the counts and had the clerk correct them, but overlooked that on Representative; so the returns were certified and signed up by the judges, and the poll book delivered to the clerk of the County Court. As a result the official count shows Judge Eversole defeated by 6 majority. It further shows five more votes for Representative at Mineral Point than were cast at that precinct, which is indisputable evidence of either intentional fraud or gross carelessness. There were irregularities at several other precincts and it is known that one or two ballots for Judge Eversole were thrown out on the most flimsy grounds. Judge Eversole, we understand, will contest the election and there is little doubt of the result among those who are acquainted with the facts.

The Globe-Democrat and other Republican papers are having a good deal to say about election frauds in St. Louis, and especially in the Twelfth Congressional district, all of which they lay at the door of the Nesbit law. That frauds were perpetrated is probable, but hoodlums, not the law, is responsible for them. The restrictions of the law as to fraudulent registration and voting are clear and stringent enough, and it is only partisan prejudice and insincerity that blame the law for what political rascality is alone responsible. Unless there were corrupt collusion between the judges and clerks of election, who have charge not only of the polls but of the registration of voters in their respective wards before the election, there would be little or no opportunity for fraud. It is a difficult matter to eliminate election frauds in large cities, and the man who can induce a law that would prevent the practices of hoodlums, which are in no strict sense partisan, would deserve and receive the thanks of all honest people; but the man with that infallible gift remains to be born. Those who cry out the most loudly against the law would commend the frauds or keep a discreet silence if they inured to their advantage. The Twelfth district appears to be a hotbed of hoodlums and the judges and clerks of election, both Democratic and Republican, seem to be glad to amenable to its influence, else such men as Jim Butler would stand no show of being elected to Congress there. The contest from this district in the present Congress was sufficient to convince one of this, when the frauds on both sides were so apparent from the evidence that neither Butler nor his contestant was permitted to sit in Congress.

There is something pathetic in an old man like Ed Butler being convicted and sentenced to a term in the penitentiary. Butler is not a bad man, as the world measures men, and there are many generous impulses in his coarse, rugged nature. A man of natural ability above the average and a leader of men of his class, he forged his way to prominence, wealth and local power and influence. In achieving such distinction, whether he followed some inherent longing of his nature, or was swayed by the environment of the two popular fallacies that rob the public through the seduction of its servants and the guise of corruptly secured legislation is a legitimate means to attain desired aims, he made diligent use of the opportunities that presented themselves to his crude moral judgment. As success followed success, he grew arrogant and impatient of any code of morality or public sentiment that resented his methods. He laughed in his confidence at such namby-pamby equanimities. Had not his methods coiled him millions? Was he not a boss and leader of a powerful element of the body politic, and did not politicians of note and even statesmen court him for the away of his power while lesser ones slavishly did his bidding? Half good natured and half revengeful, proud of his appellation, "The Village Blacksmith," he laughed in abandonment or frowned with displeasure, fearing neither man nor law—he was he not capable of coping with either? But that moral public sentiment of which he took little note, the fragmentary dream of the impracticable, became aroused and he was caught in its meshes. The sword of blindfolded, stern-faced Justice fell at last and his sharp edge pierced the shield of his influence and his millions; even that could not ward off the disgrace of conviction and sentence in his old age. A few years more at most and his course might have been run without this bitter but just overtaking. Pathetic, but who can gainsay its righteousness.

Committeeman Sullivan Extends Congratulations.
DES MOINES, Mo., Nov. 9. It gives me pleasure to congratulate the Democracy of St. Francis county for its solid support of Senator Bradley. I am especially proud of my own town and the Lead Belt generally for remembering Bradley so well. He ran ahead of his ticket in the Lead Belt, which goes to show that he stands well at home. I am glad to see that he carried every county in the district except one, and he received a flattering support there. Since Mr. Bradley carried some counties which elected Republican Representatives to the Legislature, it goes without saying that he has the confidence of the people. Des Moines is the banner Democratic town of St. Francis county, and it is especially pleasing to me as a committeeman to note this fact.
Respectfully,
JOHN L. SULLIVAN.

Thank God for Orphans.
We have a thousand things to thank God for.
But did you ever think Him for the privilege of caring for orphan children?
It is a privilege. Every Orphanage is His special care. He is the God of the Fatherless. He blesses those who bless His little ones.
Let Jew and Gentile, Protestant and Catholic alike, use Thanksgiving day for the blessed privilege of helping the little ones of the great King.
At the Thornwell Orphanage, Clinton, S. C., there are two hundred of these orphans, the little brothers and sisters of all the great company of loving hearts. Their parents represent every denomination of the Church; orphans of Masons and Odd Fellows, Knights of Honor and Pythians, are in the ranks of the little ones; they come from every Southern State and some Northern ones. No agent is in the field begging for their support; the Church sets apart no special day for collections. Whosoever will may help and in any suitable way.
Send provisions simply to "Thornwell Orphanage," Clinton, S. C.
Send gifts of money to Rev. Dr. Jacobs, Clinton, S. C.
If you do not help this Orphanage, remember there are others.

David B. Hill of New York will not be the candidate of the Democratic minority of the State Legislature for United States Senator. This statement is made on the authority of one of Mr. Hill's closest friends.

PACKING PLANT BURNED.

A Monster Barbecue at Armour & Co.'s Packing Plant in Sioux City, Iowa.

A LOSS OF NEARLY A MILLION DOLLARS.

A Grand Spectacle, Accompanied by Terrible Explosions of Drums of Ammonia and the Squeals of Frightened Hogs—The Fire Department Inadequate and Helpless.

Sioux City, Ia., Nov. 17.—Armour & Co.'s packing plant, which occupied four acres of the stock yards and was valued at $600,000, was totally destroyed, early Sunday morning, by a fire which started on the second floor of the fertilizer building, and is thought by Manager Leung to have been due either to spontaneous combustion or to an imperfect dryer. The loss is partly covered by $721,500 insurance. Six hundred men are thrown out of employment by the fire.

Within an hour after the fire was discovered by a watchman six streams of water were being thrown upon the fire, which was getting the fertilizer building, which was 120 by 60 feet and four stories high, but the pressure was inadequate. The floors and contents of the building burned like chaff. The roof soon fell and the fire burst through into the beef-killing house.

A Terrible Explosion. At the same time the cattle chute ignited and in five minutes fell with a crash. Once in the beef-killing house the flames began to dance in the form of a giant. The fire then started to burn the roof of the building. The country for miles around was lighted up. Suddenly there was a terrible detonation, followed quickly by another, and then another. Twenty-four drums, containing 100 pounds of ammonia each, exploded before the fire was reached. That explosion almost razed the entire plant. The flames were blown through the fire wall which separated the hog house from the other buildings. The hog house contained 3,500 dressed hogs and 2,000,000 pounds of pork. Steadily the fire crept against the wind and through the other building. Not a scrap of paper was saved.

Live Hogs Add Their Squeals. When the last of the ammonia drums was going off a burning chute fell upon a bunch of live hogs, and their squeals were added to the appalling chorus. After the fire got a good headway in the hog house, the shops, chicken packing plant, ice houses and ice runways and smaller department houses were consumed in quick succession. The terrible roar continued unintermitted, the high brick walls crumbled and crashed one by one, and the conflagration gradually ate its way through building after building.

The fire department was helpless, as its apparatus was inadequate. The pressure was hardly strong enough to throw water to the roof of the pork house. When the walls of this department burst the firemen played their streams on the out-buildings until daylight.

The fire burned all day, and Sunday afternoon there was another terrible explosion, which threw bricks and pieces of iron for hundreds of yards. No one was hurt.

THE BATTLESHIP ILLINOIS.
The Big Ship Has Joined the Squadron Mobilizing at Norfolk, Va., For the Manoeuvres.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 16.—The United States battleship Illinois has joined the squadron mobilizing here for the South Atlantic maneuvers. The squadron now in Norfolk and Hampton Roads is made up of the battleships Illinois, Alabama, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Indiana and Texas, and the cruisers Detroit, Cincinnati and San Francisco and several converted yachts and gunboats, together with a large torpedo fleet.

PRESIDENT HAS BAD LUCK.
The Bears on the Sandpiper Are Wise and Keep Out of Range of His Death-Dealing Gun.

Smokes, Miss., Nov. 18.—The bears in the swamp country around the president's camp on the Little Sandpiper seem to have effected a successful combination to prevent the president from having a single shot at one of them on the expedition. The only one the dogs started Monday died in a northeasterly direction at the first cry of alarm, and did not stop running until he reached the swamps about half mile from camp. There he was overtaken by Mr. McDougal, one of the managers of the Smokes plantation, who killed him at 10 paces.

CREATED A SENSATION.
Mrs. A. L. Schreier Supposed to Have Committed Suicide, With Her Baby, by Drowning.

Leavenworth, Kas., Nov. 18.—In the Missouri river, near here, a woman's straw hat with the following note has been found:
"To whoever finds this, please take the clothes to Journal office, and they will send it to 445 North Twenty-sixth street, Lincoln, Neb. This is to mark the place where I, Mrs. A. L. Schreier, and baby, have gone to rest in the deep Missouri."
It is believed that Mrs. A. L. Schreier was the wife of Frank Schreier, who was killed by Dr. Zorn, in Kansas City, three months ago, in a dispute over a board bill. The river is being dredged.

THREE SHOTS AT KING.

King Leopold of the Belgians Made a Target of White On His Way to Church.

Brussels, Nov. 16.—Three shots were fired at the king of the Belgians Saturday morning as he was proceeding to the cathedral to attend a service in memory of the late Queen Marie Henriette. No one was hurt.

The man who fired the shots is an Italian. He stood in front of the Bank of Brussels on the Rue Royale. The other chambers in his revolver proved to be blank, so it is presumed that those fired were equally harmless. The man was immediately arrested, and the police had some difficulty in rescuing him from the hands of the crowd. He gave the name of Rubino.

The royal cortege consisted of several carriages, besides that of the king, containing the count and countess of Flanders, prince and princess Albert of Flanders, the Princess Clotilde, and aides-de-camp and ladies of honor.

When examined by the police, Rubino confessed that he intended to shoot King Leopold and said he held anarchist beliefs.

A fuller investigation satisfied the police that Rubino really fired a ball cartridge, the bullet of which smashed the window of Comte D'Albion's carriage and grazed the grand marshal's face. When rescued from the mob, Rubino was placed in a cab and surrounded by a crowd of people immediately surrounded it and attacked the vehicle with knives and sticks.

The police had great difficulty in forcing a way to the police station through the crowd, which shouted alternately: "Kill him," and "Long live the king."

The cub was badly lacerated with knives. A search of the prisoner revealed a package of ball cartridges.

A GASTLY DISCOVERY.

A Nevada Prospector Finds the Remains of Several People Poisoned by an Arsenic Spring.

San Bernardino, Cal., Nov. 16.—A party of prospectors headed by Henry Arrell, who is well known in the mining district, has arrived here, bringing word of the discovery, in the timber mountains of southern Nevada, of the remains of several people supposed to have been a party of prospectors. The exact number is not given. They had apparently been poisoned by water from a spring around which the skeletons lay.

A death was soon revealed. No longer had the members of Arrell's party drank from the spring than they were seized with cramps, some of the water brought to this city and analyzed have been found to be heavily charged with arsenic.

CONFEDERATE PENSIONERS.

South Carolina Has Nearly Eight Thousand and the List is Continually Growing.

Charleston, S. C., Nov. 17.—The report of Comptroller-General Derham, just published, gives the total paid out this year in Confederate pensions as $208,237. The total number of pensioners is 7,550. Eighty-seven veterans collectively received $1,990 in lieu of artificial limbs. The increase in the number of pensioners grows yearly, and it is estimated that the appropriation will furnish a pittance much smaller than that now received.
